

The Contrarian

You and the Other Financial Personalities

Financial personalities sharing similar traits are very comfortable around each other and reinforce each other's good or bad behaviors. Other financial personalities possess opposing traits, which can lead to conflict or bring out the best in each other.

INSIGHT

The Adventurer

Contrarians take the unfamiliar roads. Adventurers travel down every road in sight. So together they're testing every idea and loving it. But because money management can distract from trying new things, if neither wants to balance their finances, they can add unnecessary stress to their lives.

The Ambassador

Ambassadors' quest to make everyone happy has met its match with Contrarians, who are always bucking against the status quo. If they can find a balance, they can create an ingenious team who's supportive while pushing each partner out into their uncomfortable zones.

The Architect

The differences here are only highlighted by the similarities. Both love to plan, but Architects are by the book, while Contrarians always have their own unique goals. But if those plans don't align, neither is going to back down from what they think is the right approach.

The Contrarian

Two Contrarians together can usually go 1 of 2 ways: They'll continually butt heads about any decision, or they'll form close partnership and take on the world. If they can reach compromises together, then they'll show the world the better ways to do relationships and everything else.

The Free Spirit

If you're looking for this pairing, check the roads less traveled because Free Spirits follow every path and Contrarians make their own paths. Their unique approaches to life can balance each other well, but can isolate them as a couple outside others' normal routines.

The Guardian

Guardians' adherence to their processes and Contrarians' distrust of trends make seem like total opposites, but when given a problem they both approach it with a tactical focus. Together they push each other to try new strategies while not brushing off the tried and true methods.

The Oasis

With Contrarians not caring about opinions and Oases' need for solidarity, they both are so focused on their individuality that they can strain each other as a pair. But by taking an interest in each other's thoughts and opinions, they can avoid many common conflicts.

The Rock

Contrarians' skeptical nature clashes somewhat with the consistency of Rocks, but with Rocks' calm, that can lead to impassioned discussions about new and interesting topics. While these can take disappointing turns if not handled correctly, they can also create powerful relationships.

The Spark

Contrarians have a skeptical eye and Sparks always speak frankly, so together they get straight to the point. They value brutal honesty and appreciate frankness. Although until they've established deep understandings of each other, they can sometimes take it too far.

The Storyteller

Contrarians don't worry about pleasing anyone while Storytellers have never met a person they didn't want to meet. So together they can create magic together or imaginative and crowd-pleasing magic that can be enough mutual respect for their difference approaches, implode in loud ways.
